ALL ABOARD PUFFING BILLY WITH LEG DANGLING BACK ON TRACK

Visitors to the iconic Puffing Billy railway can once again enjoy the century-old tradition of sitting on the sills on open-side carriages for the full length of the railway journey for the first time since 2018, thanks to the Allan Labor Government.

Minister for Tourism, Sport and Major Events Steve Dimopoulos today joined Chair of the Puffing Billy Railway Board Tim North KC OAM at the railway's Lakeside Visitor Centre in Emerald to announce the return of the full iconic experience.

More than 400,000 visitors enjoy the preserved heritage steam railway every year, and the return of leg dangling from Belgrave to Gembrook has been made possible by the Labor Government's $1.4 million upgrade to both the Gembrook Historic Station and Menzies Creek Station.

The project has restored the Gembrook station's facade back to its original glory – celebrating its rich heritage dating back to the town's initial settlement in 1873.

These works follow the 2021 opening of the Lakeside Visitor Centre, backed by a $12.7 million investment from the Labor Government, which won the prestigious global award for Best New International Architecture at the 2022 International Architecture Awards.

Puffing Billy Railway has been part of Victoria's railway history for 123 years, with generations of families making the journey through the Dandenong Ranges at the much-loved attraction.
